Indian Runners Report No Success in Search For T. A. T. Craft

EIGHT ON BOARD

Plane Last Seen Flying Low Over Old Fort Defiance, New Mexico

GALLUP, N. M., Sept. 5.—(INS)—Despite reports that the giant air liner City of San Francisco had been found with the bodies of its eight occupants, Indian runners sent out from here reported early today that they had found no trace of the missing monoplane.

The trans-continental air transport liner was reported to have crashed twenty-six miles south of here in the Black Rock valley when it was struck by a bolt of lightning. It was reported that the bodies of five passengers and three of the crew were found in the wreckage.

Other advices from posses sent out to the district where the plane was reported as crashing also were without news of the plane's whereabouts.

It was raining just before dawn and the Indians said further search at night would be useless.

At daybreak two hundred Indians were to be dispatched to search again for the wreckage.

Horace Moses, superintendent of the Gallup-American Coal Co., declared that he had heard nothing which would confirm an earlier rumor ascribed to a rural mail carrier, who reported finding the wreckage of the monoplane.

T. A. T. officials here and at Winslow stated that they were skeptical of the report that the wrecked plane had been located.

Meanwhile heedless of storm perils such as are believed to have forced the missing westbound air liner to earth, twenty-three airplanes doggedly kept up the hunt.

Passengers aboard the missing craft were:

- William Beers, New York.
- Harris Livermore, Boston.
- M. M. Campbell, Cincinnati.
- A. B. McGaffey, Albuquerque.
- Mrs. George Raymond, Glendale, Calif.

Pilot J. B. Stowe, Assistant Pilot A. Dietel and Courier C. F. Canfield composed the crew.

The last seen of the plane was when it passed low over Old Fort Defiance, N. M., at 11:45 yesterday morning. So close to earth was the ship that it barely passed over a range of cliffs west of the little town.

It is believed by the hundreds of persons taking part in the search of the desert country that the same furious electrical storm which washed out miles of railway bridges in Arizona and whipped across the eastern part of New Mexico forced the giant transport ship down.

When the tri-motored liner left Albuquerque yesterday it had more than sufficient fuel for the flight to Los Angeles, according to company officials.

One Dead, Four injured, In Gas Explosion at Colliery

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Sept. 5.—(INS)—One man is near death and four others are suffering from severe burns in the Pottsville Hospital today following a gas explosion in the South Penn Colliery, near here, yesterday.

Charles Henney, of Middleport, was so seriously injured that physicians do not expect him to live.

Henney and four other workers were setting off charges of dynamite in a section of the colliery. A flash from a dynamite stick is believed to have ignited a pocket of gas in a rock hole.

The gas exploded with a roar, hurling the five men to the mine floor and burning Henney about the face and body.

Collapse of Bridge Is Cause of Death of Man

LANCASTER, Sept. 5.—(INS)—Collapse of a second bridge in Lancaster County within less than two weeks, resulted early today in the death of Alexander J. Jamison, 35, of 1213 South Thirty-first street, Philadelphia, and the injury of two other men.

Jamison was driving a truck which was towing a gasoline road roller. The truck swerved on the bridge and struck an end of one of the two 100-foot sections of the span. With a sickening crunching, the bridge collapsed into the creek below, a mass of warped and twisted steel and splintered wood. The truck slithered through the wrecked bridge and fell forty feet to the creek bed below.

Two other men, riding with Jamison, were slightly injured.

The bridge was on the new Holland Pike, between Lancaster and New Holland. The New Holland Pike is a toll road which, because of the collapse of the bridge last week, has been carrying a great share of the Philadelphia-Reading traffic.

FAULTY TRANSCRIPTS MADE OUT BY JUSTICE

Judge Keller Discharges The Defendants Where This Occurs

BRISTOL MAN MUST PAY

DOYLESTOWN, Sept. 5.—Because the transcripts prepared by the Justice of the Peace were not in accord with the motor vehicle law, Judge Hiram H. Keller yesterday dismissed proceedings in three cases and discharged the defendants. This was followed by a warning that Justices of the Peace should be more careful in preparing transcripts because of numerous technicalities in the motor code.

Mrs. Ralph Bilger, of Philadelphia, and Robert R. Biehl, of Langhorne, were arrested near Langhorne by Officer Leroy Hess, of Langhorne, and charged with reckless driving. They both waived a hearing before Justice Atkins and appeared in court yesterday.

They were discharged after the court had been informed of the condition of the transcript. Both parties, it was reported, were arrested during the operation of an alleged "speed trap" near Langhorne.

The other motorist discharged was Margaret Andre, of Colmar, who was also charged with reckless driving. Her case was heard before a Justice of the Peace where a fine was imposed. The decision was appealed. Judge Keller dismissed the conviction and the woman was discharged.

Fred Bedrick, of Philadelphia, charged with desertion and non-support was directed to pay his wife, Mary, of Bristol, $6.00 a week. They were married twenty-two years ago.

Judge Keller suggested that Bedrick "give up another woman mentioned in the case" and go and live with his wife.

Daniel Goccia, of near New Hope, who was sentenced to serve from one to two years in the county prison last January on a larceny charge, was granted a parole yesterday by Judge Keller, after the court had been furnished with information that Goccia's two-year-old child was threatened with tuberculosis and that he desired to take her to Colorado for her health.

Mrs. Anna Loux, mother-in-law of Goccia, told Judge Keller that she would pay the expenses of the trip west and that she and her own son, also suffering from tuberculosis at Mount Alto, would go west with him. Goccia's wife died a year ago from tuberculosis.

Leroy Geiger, of North Wales, charged with desertion and non-support by his wife, Elizabeth, was directed to start proceedings in Montgomery county if she wanted the case heard. Judge Keller ruled that the county court had no jurisdiction. Mrs. Geiger, formerly of New Britain, is now living in Hatfield.

Henry Long, a wharf and dock builder, of Philadelphia, was directed to pay his wife, Sadie, of Bridgewater, $12 a week toward the support of her three children and to enter in his own recognition in the sum of $300 to pay the costs of the proceeding within three months. Mrs. Long told Judge Keller that she did not care to go back and live with her husband again, although they both own their own house in Bridgewater where Mrs. Long is living. Long told the court that he supported his wife up until two weeks before he was arrested. He has been in prison five weeks.

MOYER FAMILY IS TO RECEIVE A MEMORIAL

Plans Made at Reunion Attended by 800 Members Of the Family

DR. A. F. MYERS PRES.

PERKASIE, Sept. 5.—Eight hundred members of the Meyer-Moyer Reunion Association attended the annual gathering here Saturday and made it one of the largest reunions ever held by the clan.

Peter Meyer, of Louisville, Ky., won the prize for coming the greatest distance; a four-week-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Reese, Perkasia, the one for the young child, and Oliver Myers, of Plumsteadville, with nine of his family, the one for the largest family present.

The most important business before the family was the selecting of a site for the memorial to the early ancestors of the family.

William M. Moyer, Perkasia, chairman of the committee, explained that while it is known that Christian and Hans were the earliest progenitors of the family in this country, it is not definitely known where they are buried. However, as the greatest number of Meyers from Bucks county are buried in the Blooming Glen Mennonite Burial Ground, it was decided to place the memorial there, on a lot purchased in the new part of the burial ground.

It will be a large stone bearing a bronze plate on which will be this inscription:

"Meyer-Moyer Family Memorial Erected in honor of our forefathers, who settled in this vicinity in 1709."

This is expected to cost about $500. Of this sum $250 was contributed at the reunion. If plans go through as planned, the memorial will be unveiled at the next reunion the last Saturday in August, 1930, when there will be a pilgrimage from the park to the burying ground.

An election of officers resulted as follows: President, Dr. Anthony F. Myers, Blooming Glen; first vice-president, Dr. Abram L. Myers, Philadelphia; second vice-president, Charles M. Meredith, Perkasia; treasurer, Jacob H. Myers, Perkasia; recording secretary, Abner S. Moyer; corresponding secretary, Herbert T. Moyer.

Addresses were made by Dr. Abram L. Moyer, who recently returned from Europe, where he made genealogical searches in Germany and Switzerland, and Rev. M. G. Moyer, North Wales, who has just returned from a trip to South America. Dr. Myers explained that he had gotten very little definite information, but will continue his searches.

Music was furnished at the reunion by the Hilltown Chorus and by the Moyer Orchestra.

EXONERATE MAN WHOSE AUTO RAN DOWN LITTLE BOY

Jury Finds That Machine Was Not Operated in Reckless Manner

FATHER NOT PRESENT

Parent of Youngster Killed Does Not Appear Against Defendant

Herbert Stead, 404 Dorrance street, was exonerated from all blame in the death of Edward Nepo, 3, 352 Lincoln avenue. The Nepo child was struck by a machine operated by Stead on Lincoln avenue on August 24th and died the following day in the Harriman Hospital.

Witnesses testified to having picked the child up after the accident and rushing him to the hospital but no witness was present who actually saw the accident with the exception of a man who accompanied Stead in the machine.

Stead was operating the car without a license and had only a learner's permit which had expired.

When placed on the stand in his own defense Stead said that he was illegally operating the machine. He gave as an excuse that he had been called by his employer to come to work at once to do an emergency job and "I took a chance and took the car out," he explained. "I have learned a lesson," he commented.

The coroner's jury was composed of James E. Mooney, Anthony Russo, John P. Kessler, J. Curtis Howell, Thomas Lawrence and George Silbert.

The first witness was Michael Torano who did not see the actual accident but saw the child after being struck by the machine. He could not identify the car.

Frank Torano gave about the same testimony. James Marino was riding with Stead as was also Louis Mign.

The father of the child did not appear against Stead and it was stated that he had agreed with Stead to the proposition that Stead pay one-half of all the expenses connected with the accident.

Coroner John J. Sweeney told the jury that it could not hold Stead for illegal driving as it was not a criminal offense. It is merely a summary conviction. That is a matter for the police to take up later. A warrant will be issued for Stead and he will be fined $13.50 in accordance with the law.

Witnesses claimed that cars were parked on both sides of Lincoln avenue at the time of the accident and that the child ran from the sidewalk out between the parked cars.

Funeral of Thos. McConomy Will Be Held On Saturday

Funeral of Thomas McConomy, who was found dead along the towpath of the canal Tuesday evening, will take place from the funeral parlors of the H. S. Rue Estate, 325 Mill street, Saturday at 9:30 a. m. Burial is to be made in St. Mark's Churchyard, and friends may call Friday evening.

The body of the man, who was about 57 years of age, was found by three small boys who were playing about the towpath just above the bridge which carries the P. R. R. tracks over the stream above Adams Hollow Creek. Death, it is believed, was caused by acute alcoholism. It was thought McConomy had been dead for several hours when found.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Killian and family of "Fairview" and Leonard Killian of Tullytown, were Monday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Max Walter, of Hattboro.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bux, of Maple Beach, and Miss Madeline Bowers, of Newtown, spent the week-end and Labor Day in Dingmans Ferry.

MECHANIC INMATES AT COUNTY JAIL DO WORK

Assist With Many Needful Tasks at Doylestown Institution

ARE WILLING WORKERS

DOYLESTOWN, Sept. 4.—Everyone thinks of the county jail as a good place from which to stay away, but from the viewpoint of a visitor, it affords a most interesting institution to inspect. One who has never gone through it and had its organization explained is amazed at the extent of its self-sufficiency.

In an interview, Head Keeper Grant Myers yesterday said that almost any kind of artisan can be found among the prisoners. Plumbing, tailoring, carpentry and painting are only a few of the trades represented by the various prisoners. It is for exceptional work only that outside help is needed. By allowing the prisoners to utilize their time in this manner it is not only beneficial to them, but the county is saved a great deal of expense for repairs and maintenance. At times certain prisoners are brought to the court house to do the same kind of work.

The prison is a scene of industry. In the detention room used as a place to keep children awaiting trial, one prisoner was doing some wiring while others were painting and reconditioning it. Some of the inmates were working in the garden, others repainting the cells and a few repairing the driveway within the jail yard.

One of the most interesting things is the fine garden cultivated entirely by the prisoners. The truck patch covers about an acre and almost every kind of vegetable is grown in it. Up to date over 500 ears of corn have been pulled. Six bushels of onions and ten bushels of potatoes have been dug and a large quantity of string beans and lettuce have been raised. All of the produce is used exclusively as food for the prisoners. The prisoners appear to be interested in the cultivation of the patch and Mr. Myers said that some fine truckers have been discovered.

One of the most skilled craftsmen is an old Hungarian tailor, who speaks only a few words of English. He does all the mending and sewing that needs to be done and is eager to have work. According to Mr. Myers, the quality of his work is remarkable.

With few exceptions the prisoners are willing to work and some take a very active interest. A few of the cells have been decorated by pictures drawn by the inmates and made to look as attractive as possible.

Visitors are impressed with the general neatness, cleanliness and order of things highly commended by inspectors on their visits.

ENTERTAIN GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Tomesani, of Mill street, had as their guests over the week-end, Mr. and Mrs. Armando Bernagozi and children, Anita and Adrian, from Caplague, Long Island. They spent the week-end in Asbury Park and Philadelphia. They also enjoyed a trip on the river in Clarence Winter's yacht.

YARDLEY MAN IS DIRECTED TO PAY WIFE ALLOWANCE

Thomas Todd, Former Constable, Has Hearing Before Judge

CAPPELO CASE IS UP

Earl Fosbenner Pleads Guilty To Charge of Operating Car While Drunk

Doylestown, Sept. 5.—Thomas Todd, former constable of Yardley, was directed to pay his wife $6.00 a week toward her support at a hearing yesterday before Judge Hiram H. Keller on a charge of desertion and non-support.

The charge was brought by Mrs. Elizabeth Todd, fifty-nine, who told the court that her hubby, "Tommy" Todd, sixty-seven, "threw scalding water in her face, was running around with other women, and that she would not go back and live with him under any conditions."

Todd, a teamster, it was testified by his wife, made as high as $100 a week. Mrs. Todd said that after her husband abused her she had not spoken to him since last April. Another woman was mentioned in the case as Alice Beuhrlie, of Yardley, with whom Todd now boards.

The defense pointed out that Mrs. Todd was "jealous because 'Tommy' Todd took some meat home to the Beuhrlie family." Mrs. Todd is working for Frank Wist, Yardley restaurant proprietor.

Elizabeth Curtis, of Yardley, a neighbor of Mrs. Todd, testified that Mrs. Todd came to her place at 2 and 3 o'clock on several mornings and asked her to take her in because her husband "put her out."

"I am willing to take my wife back if she will stop running around with other men," Todd testified. "I would take her back this afternoon."

Todd admitted that he did throw some scalding water on his wife some time ago when she called him a "couple of vile Irish names." He said that he had pity on the Beuhrlie family and that is why he bought them meat and gave them "financial assistance" at times.

"My wife has not been true to me," Todd told Judge Keller.

A letter was produced in court in which Todd wrote that he "would lay in jail all the balance of my life rather than give her any money."

Judge Keller reprimanded both parties in the case and in making an order of $6.00 a week stated that the order would be small because he thought Todd too had been somewhat abused.

Joseph Cappello, of Bristol, was directed to pay his wife, Mrs. Helen H. Cappello, of Trenton, N. J., $12.00 a week toward her support. Mrs. Cappello testified that her husband "beat her up terribly and locked her in a house besides throwing her into a window glass." She said her husband never worked for any length of time because he was always discharged.

Earl Fosbenner, 27, of Richlandtown, pleaded guilty yesterday before Judge Keller to a charge of operating his automobile while drunk on the Bethlehem Pike. He was sentenced to pay a fine of $200 and costs and serve thirty days in the county prison. Three persons were injured when Fosbenner's car crashed.

James Reese, 25, of Lansdale, pleaded guilty to operating a "craps" game near Sellersville when the place was raided by State Police recently. He was sentenced to pay a fine of $300 and costs and prison sentence was suspended. The Chief of Police of Lansdale and a Lansdale Justice of the Peace testified that Reese had a good reputation in that town.

THRIFT AND SUCCESS

One of America's two billionaires believes that the advice to all boys to save their money regularly is partly wrong. The other believes that this advice is entirely right. Any advice may be partly right and partly wrong. But both Henry Ford and John D. Rockefeller, Sr., have been tremendously successful and aspiring American youth may be pardoned for wondering whose advice they should follow.

The automobile wizard's thought is that every boy of whatever promise, should be told that he "will never get anywhere without work—but no successful boys ever saved money. They spent it as fast as they got it for things to improve themselves."

While his statement is too wholesale to be accurate—and Mr. Rockefeller confronts it with the facts of his own youth and the practice of his age—it may well be true that the boy destined to be great is rarely a thrifty boy in the savings bank sense. But it is equally true that many boys who never will amount to anything have the same indisposition to save, and in their cases thrift would help.

There are boys who, to be successful, must emulate Henry Ford and others who should heed the words of the oil magnate. What a pity the two types cannot be distinguished from each other by rule-of-thumb methods or a machine! Neither being possible, all boys who aspire to financial success cannot go wrong by disciplining themselves in this universal matter of spending and saving.

MILLIONS FOR SHIPS

Significant of the development of intercoast shipping is the vast capital outlay represented by vessels engaged in this traffic. Some of these vessels are equipped on the scale of a trans-Atlantic liner and on every voyage carry hundreds of passengers and thousands of tons of freight. Three representative ships cost $21,000,000 to build.

Building of vessels of the sort now engaging in intercoast transportation is evidence of the faith of capital in the future of freight and passenger traffic between the east and west coasts of the American continents. And this construction goes on at a rapid pace.

This trade has expanded greatly in recent years, being one explanation of the rapidity with which the facilities of the Panama Canal are being taxed. It shows that however great are the difficulties in creating a transoceanic merchant marine, coast and intercoast trade—in which American vessels enjoy a monopoly—will do something to keep the United States ship-minded. If the "know-how" is one of the big factors in successful ship operation, such a school should help teach the lesson.

This traffic between the two coasts of the United States and between the American continents has contributed largely to the prosperity of the United States, to the development of her ports and to the growth of trade between the United States and Central and South American countries.

If every corporation whose stock is listed on the market is making 100 per cent annually, the stock market should continue its upward trend for at least a year.

AERONAUTICAL ACTIVITIES ADVANCE

(By INS)

A wave of intense activity has swept over the State of Pennsylvania within the last few weeks and today in all sections citizens and private companies are busy making improvements and laying out new plans for furtherance of aeronautical activities in the Commonwealth.

On every hand work is progressing to put airports now in operation on a more efficient basis. Contracting jobs have been let or work is in progress throughout the State in the construction of new airports, new planes and new safety appliances.

Connellsville will add its name to the long list of towns in the State to dedicate an airport when, on Saturday, September 7, the American Legion Airport in that city will be formally dedicated with appropriate ceremonies.

It is expected that more than fifty planes will be on hand when William P. McCracken, Assistant Secretary of the Navy Department at Washington, makes the principal address. Stunts and races will be held with a number of Army and Navy planes participating. The airport consists of 54 acres situated northwest of the city and is considered by experts to be ideal for safe flying.

The U. S. Government has leased a section of land near the Hagerstown airport for the erection of a giant air beacon to guide airmail flyers on the Washington-Cleveland route. It is believed that Hagerstown soon will be made a regular stop on the route.

Ridgway has recently shown something new in movies of local interest. A plane carrying a news reel photographer made a series of "shots" of the local terrain and the completed reels were exhibited in a local theatre. The picture included views of the opening of the new airport at DuBois as well as aerial stunts in connection with the dedication.

"KONJOLA MORE THAN MEDICINE," SAYS HAPPY LADY

Found in New and Different Compound Very Thing Her System Required

MRS. MAE L. COUCH

"Konjola was certainly more than a medicine to me, for it is acting now as a tonic," said Mrs. Mae L. Couch, 588 West Mahoning street, Punksutawny, Pa. "For a long time I suffered from a complication of ills. I had indigestion, headaches, nervousness, and was lacking in vitality and ambition. I did not have a good appetite, and did not sleep well."

"Konjola was strongly recommended to me, and I decided to find out if it was as good as people said it was. Konjola helped me, and helped me quickly in every way, and now that my ills are at an end, Konjola is giving me strength, weight and renewed vitality. I, too, recommend Konjola, for it has proved its worth in no uncertain way."

Konjola is sold in Bristol at Hoffman's Cut Rate store and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—(Adv.)

of Scranton, has announced the perfection of a new airplane motor which was recently given exhaustive tests in the vicinity of Washington, D. C., Virginia and a number of Maryland points. The motor was designed by R. S. Moore and was tried out in a Challenger plane. Details of its construction have not been made public.

Honors of quickly acquiring sufficient flying knowledge to solo are due Guy Spencer, of Greenville, who took a plane aloft without being accompanied by an instructor after only five hours in the air.

Another invention by a Pennsylvania man is that of a new type of muffler for airplane motors, designed and patented by Benjamin Hemerka, of Shamokin. Hemerka designed the muffler during one of the idle periods of the colliery where he is employed as a machinist. The muffler is attached to the crankshaft and revolves with the motor, stifling the terrific explosions without decreasing the horsepower developed by the engine.

Allentown's progress in the promotion and development of aviation was well demonstrated to the air-minded citizens of the state when Captain Sidney Riley, executive manager and chief pilot of the Allentown Aviation Corporation, finished second in the Philadelphia to Cleveland air derby. The race was (1,000) thousand miles in length and Captain Riley drew down the neat sum of $1,000 in prize money.

Martin Jensen, trans-Pacific flier and nationally known pilot, has leased the Lehigh Airport and will engage in the manufacture of all-metal monoplanes powered with Wright Whirlwind motors.

Ground has been broken at Harrisburg for the development of the Harrisburg Airport situated along the Harrisburg-York Highway about five miles from the center of Harrisburg. The field is owned by the Capital City Landing Field Company but probably will be operated by the Pittsburgh Aviation Industries Corporation. It will be completed in the fall.

"EDDIE" ROE IS LEADER OF TWILIGHT BATTERS

By T. M. Jano

"Eddie" Roe, flashy St. Ann's short-stop, showed the way to the regular batters in the Bristol Twilight League with a season's mark of .541. Roe, with the fourth place club, stepped to the pentagon thirty-seven times and connected for twenty safe smacks. He missed but one game all season.

Cooper, Lawson and McGerr had higher averages than the "Saints" star but did not engage in enough contests to be classed as regulars.

Barrett, with an average of .531 in twelve games, was runner-up to the leader, while "Lefty" Rodgers followed with an even .500. Rodgers took part in nineteen contests while Barrett was in twelve.

Rodgers led the league in the total number of hits with twenty-four. Riola, of the Federals, was next with twenty-one. Roe followed with twenty.

In run scoring, M. Cochrane had no trouble in grabbing this honor. Cochrane crossed the plate twenty-five times, seven times more than H. Morrell, of Emilie Y. M. A., who counted eighteen times.

Some time next week the players who led the league in doubles, triples, homers, stolen bases, etc., will be published.

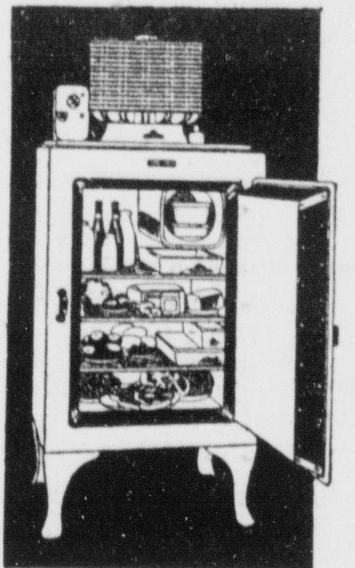

The following is how the players batted during the entire 1929 season:

Here's a HEALTH WATCHMAN FOR YOUR HOME..

DURING this hot weather particularly, it is most important to keep all perishable foods safely cold. When the temperature in your refrigerator rises even a degree or two above 50, bacteria multiply with alarming speed. In a General Electric Refrigerator the temperature is always below 50 degrees—low enough to check germ growth . . . to keep foods safe from contamination.

The General Electric gives you perfect refrigeration—quiet, worry-free and economical. It has a simple device for freezing regulation. Its mechanism, which never needs oiling, is safely enclosed in an hermetically sealed steel casing, mounted on top. As evidence of guaranteed reliability—there are now more than 300,000 users and not one has spent a single dollar for repairs!

And the cabinet of the General Electric is the first and only one built entirely of steel—as strong and warp-proof as a safe. See it for yourself.

POLLYANNA
COLYUM

A New York man boasts he never "yessed" an employer in his life. But he admits he never got any where.

Sunshine, water-melon, cantaloupe, feed tea, electric fans, what's wrong with the summer?

The fourth grade had been studying the poles in class.

"Johnny," said the teacher, "what is it that lives near the poles? It is white and its name begins with a 'B'."

Johnny: "Oh, yes. I know, teacher—Commander Byrd."

Even a strong, silent man will loosen up a bit at $1 a word.

It's tough to be left-handed when you're eating in an armchair lunch room, but it's even tougher on the fellow sitting next to you.

It doesn't take blue eyes and blonde hair long to make a pay envelope look sick.

Every man should live so that he has no use for a lawyer to get him out of trouble.

Few of us are trained to think in a crisis, but all can act the fool in one without any training.

"This law is a queer business."

"How so?"

"They swear a man to tell the truth."

"What then?"

"And every time he shows signs of doing so, some lawyer objects."

It never grows too cold, nor too hot, to smile and enjoy life as it is.

If the employer, after years of hard work and worry, succeeds and makes money, the employees made it for him. But—if he loses all he has, that's his own fault.

Sometimes it takes a lot of hush money to run a still.

HAPPINESS largely consists not in what you have, but in what you don't want—and putting the difference in the bank.

He: "Could you marry a man who spends all he makes?"

She: "No, but I could love him while it lasted."

One kind of man you'll never meet is one who wants a good paying political office for only one term.

Gulf Company Makes Its Gas Uniform in Quality

The Anti-Knock quality of gasoline is very important in these days of high-compression, high speed engines, but this Anti-Knock feature is not the only quality that a first class gasoline should possess. A very poor grade of gasoline may be doped for Anti-Knock and still not possess other qualities vitally necessary to the efficient performance of the automobile motor.

For perfect efficiency the best grades of crudes are used. Skilled chemists, who are highly paid, supervise every step in the distillation. Coming down to the technical points, the best gasolines have a range of boiling points, beginning somewhere around 95 to 100 degrees

Fahrenheit and ending around 375 to 400 degrees Fahrenheit. Too much low boiling point fractions cause irregular engine operation. If a gasoline possesses just the proper boiling point fractions—maximum power is insured. If too many high boiling point fractions, excessive carbon is the result, and excessive crank case dilution, and hard starting. All these necessary details can be looked after in only the very modern and expensively equipped refineries.

One of the local officials of the Gulf Refining Company says that every precaution is taken, in their refineries, to make each run of gasoline uniform with the best. Boiling points are carefully watched and gauged to the proper degree, hence Gulf Refining Company can guarantee that the same high grade of No-Nox Fuel may be purchased from any Gulf Service Station or dealer from Maine to Texas.

NATURE seldom gives the maximum of two good qualities to any animal, plant, mineral or any natural oil. Most motor oils are made from crude oil that has a paraffine base or another crude oil with a naphthene base. Both these crude oils have qualities peculiar to themselves. The chemists of the Gulf Refining Company chose the best paraffine and naphthene crude oils and after exhaustive research finally succeeded in perfecting a blend of the two, which is

SUPREME MOTOR OIL

This two-base oil is especially made for today's high-compression high-speed motors.

A prohibitory law, where it is enforced, not only causes the money received by wage workers to be spent more intelligently; it actually tends to give them more money to spend by relieving the congestion in the low wage occupations and encouraging that occupational redistribution of labor which is an effective cause of the equalizing tendencies visible in this country at the present time.—Professor T. N. Carver of Harvard.—(Adv.)

BRISTOL A. A. WINNERS OVER TEAM FROM JERSEY

Last evening the Bristol A. A. traveled to Burlington minus several of the players and defeated the Jersey team 6 to 4 in a red hot battle. Barrett, Cook and David hit the ball hard. Grindle, the local hurler, had an easy time fooling the Jersey batters. McCloskey was Burlington's star. This makes Bristol's tenth straight game won.
